Get There! 2025: A Day that Opened Doors and Left a Mark

On September 12th, ANGLO hosted a new edition of GET THERE!, a special event designed to inspire and connect young people, professionals, and teachers with new horizons for study, work, and personal growth abroad—with English as the bridge that unites all these opportunities.

Throughout the day, participants moved between stands and talks, connecting with institutions, embassies, and agencies that offered guidance and resources for international experiences. The atmosphere was vibrant, filled with energy, curiosity, and the excitement of those eager to explore what the world has to offer.

What made GET THERE! 2025 stand out were the shared experiences. One of the highlights of the event was the chance to listen to personal stories and reflections from those who have already taken the leap into international experiences. These moments resonated strongly with the audience, reminding everyone that opportunities abroad are not just distant dreams, but achievable goals that can transform both career paths and personal outlooks. The event not only provided practical guidance, but created a space where opportunities felt closer, more tangible, and attainable. Many left with the motivation and tools to take their first step toward an experience abroad.

Although the event has come to an end, its impact continues. All the information and resources will be available on our social media channels and websites, so everyone can revisit the content and make the most of the opportunities presented during the day.

A heartfelt thank you to all participants, our sponsors, and every institution and supporter who made GET THERE! 2025 possible. Cambridge English Skills Test Launch at the British Residence

An Innovation in English Language Assessment

On Thursday, 23rd October 2025, the British Residence in Montevideo hosted a special event organised by the Instituto Cultural Anglo Uruguayo, in collaboration with Cambridge University Press & Assessment, to present the Cambridge English Skills Test — an innovative new tool for assessing English language proficiency.

A New Era in English Evaluation

The Cambridge English Skills Test marks a new step forward in how English is assessed within educational institutions. Designed to measure students' language skills through an adaptive testing system, the difficulty of each question automatically adjusts to the learner's performance, ensuring an accurate and personalised measure of proficiency.

The tool provides clear and comparable reports, enabling schools to monitor progress, identify learning needs, and make data-driven academic decisions. The Cambridge English Skills Test is available in Uruguay through the Instituto Anglo, reaffirming the long-standing partnership between Cambridge and the Anglo — a collaboration that has strengthened English education for over 77 years.

A Gathering of Educational Leaders

The event brought together representatives from schools and institutions across Uruguay that work with secondary-level and university students, who are the primary focus of this assessment. The Cambridge English Skills Test can be used in a variety of contexts, offering institutions an effective way to diagnose language levels, set learning goals, and track progress over time.

During the presentation, participants had the opportunity to explore the structure, modules, and adaptive technology of the test, and to see how it can be integrated into school programmes to enhance both teaching and learning.

Introducing Linguaskill Business: The new business English exam from Cambridge

In a rapidly changing global workplace, English language skills for business environments are more important than ever. To meet this need, Cambridge English offers Linguaskill Business, a modern, flexible, online test that certifies a candidate's proficiency in business-English contexts.

What is Linguaskill Business?

Linguaskill Business is a multi-level, modular exam, designed to assess English language ability in business and corporate settings. It replaces (or builds on) earlier business English exams and offers organisations and learners a more flexible, dynamic way to measure relevant English skills.

Key features include:

- An online, on-demand exam: candidates can take the exam when their organisation or test-centre offers it, giving greater scheduling flexibility.
- Adaptive testing for reading and listening: the exam dynamically adjusts to the test-taker's level, helping to provide an accurate assessment for mixed-ability groups.
- Modular format: organisations or candidates can choose which of the four skills (Reading, Listening, Writing, Speaking) to test.
- Aligned to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) from B1 up to C2, allowing certified measurement of proficiency across a wide range.

Who is it for?

Linguaskill Business is aimed at older students (often 16+ or adult learners) and professionals who need a recognised certificate of business English for workplace communication, career development or recruitment. The exam is ideal for:

- Students entering the workforce or moving into professional/business roles
- Employees (or prospective employees) requiring an official certificate of English proficiency in a business context
- Organisations (language schools, business training centres, HR teams) that need to assess and certify the English levels of their staff, teams or learners.

How does it work?

The exam is modular and online or in-centre: institutes or learners can choose which skills to test. The Reading and Listening modules use computer-adaptive testing, meaning the difficulty adjusts as the candidate progresses. The Writing and Speaking modules assess real-world business-English tasks such as reports, emails or spoken prompts.

Results are delivered quickly—within approximately 3-5 working days once the test is completed, and the certificate is available digitally.

The certificate does not have a fixed expiry date—organisations decide how recent a result must be for their purposes.

Why choose Linguaskill Business?

For both institutions and learners there are strong advantages:

Ready for Success: Supporting Students in the Final Stages of Exam Preparation

As the exam period approaches, preparation centres play a crucial role in ensuring that candidates feel confident, calm, and ready to perform at their best. Beyond language skills, success in a Cambridge English Qualification also depends on readiness — understanding the exam format, knowing what to expect on the day, and developing strategies to manage time and nerves effectively.

The Exam Preparation Journey from Cambridge University Press & Assessment was designed precisely with this in mind. It guides teachers and students through every stage of the preparation process, offering sequenced materials, teaching ideas, and practical support.

At this point of the year, when candidates are just a few weeks away from sitting their exams, Packs 8 and 9 provide the most valuable resources to ensure a positive and successful exam experience.

Pack 8 – Getting Exam-Day Ready

Pack 8 helps teachers and students focus on what truly matters: feeling ready for the big day.

Its materials are designed to strengthen confidence, consolidate learning, and simulate exam conditions so that nothing on the day comes as a surprise.

Key elements include:

- Timed practice and exam-style simulations to familiarise students with real test conditions.

INTERNATIONAL RECOGNITION

ISSUE 191 OCTOBER 2025

- Confidence-building activities to help manage nerves and develop a calm, focused mindset.
- Practical checklists covering what to bring, how to plan the journey, and how to stay organised and comfortable throughout the exam day.
- Celebration of progress — recognising achievements and motivating students for the final step of their journey.

For preparation centres, Pack 8 offers an excellent framework for running final “exam-ready” sessions, ensuring that candidates understand procedures, timing, and expectations, and feel reassured and supported as they approach their exams.

Pack 9 – Checking Progress and Building Awareness

After students have worked through their final practice and exam-day preparation, Pack 9 encourages reflection and fine-tuning. It helps teachers and candidates look back at their preparation and identify any last-minute gaps or areas where greater clarity is needed.

Key contents and classroom applications:

- Mock test or diagnostic activities to measure how prepared candidates are across the different papers.
- Guidance for interpreting results, helping teachers provide targeted feedback and helping students focus their revision efficiently.
- Self-assessment tools and goal-setting checklists that promote learner autonomy and awareness of exam criteria.

INTERNATIONAL RECOGNITION

ISSUE 191 OCTOBER 2025

- Opportunities to revisit key skills and reinforce strategies for weaker areas identified through the mock test.

Pack 9 turns the last phase of preparation into a reflective and evidence-based process, ensuring that every student approaches the exam with clarity and confidence.

Turning Preparation into Confidence

The journey towards any Cambridge exam is not only about developing linguistic competence — it's also about cultivating confidence, resilience, and a sense of achievement.

By combining Pack 8's focus on readiness and reassurance with Pack 9's emphasis on reflection and refinement, preparation centres can help students move from learning to performing with confidence.

These resources make the final stretch of the preparation journey both purposeful and motivating, ensuring that candidates walk into their exam not just prepared — but truly ready for success.
